Tylo Ribeiro

I grew up in Vereeniging in a normal household, unexpectedly I grew fond of capturing moments on my film camera when I was younger. Getting into university, while studying chemical engineering, my passion for photography grew. Up to a point where I decided to buy my first digital camera. Ever since that decision, my love for photos and meeting new people has escalated to a point where I would want to do this for the rest of my life.

I am slightly geeky with my love for random useless facts. My friends always describe me as 'lively' and 'positive'. I am crazy about movies, music and traveling. I am a hopeless romantic and thrive on the intimate moments shared between couples. I am a passionate, energetic and sometimes-cries-at-weddings photographer.

Few things you should know before meeting me:

1. I am a Spider-Man fan.
2. I dance, in random moments, I dance.
3. I am outgoing and get along with mostly everyone, you may just think I have been around for years in your circle.
4. I love bringing out the best in everyone.
5. No judgement.
